East Coast Severely Hurt By Heavy Rain

Downpours Bring Flood Conditions To Some Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms which soaked the Middle Atlantic states with torrential rains tapered off to sporadic showers today, but residents in some sections remained uneasy over continued flood threats.

Rainfall during the night generally was light by recent standards. Four- to 6-inch downpours swamped portions of eastern Pennsylvania Sunday night and early Monday.

A state of emergency was declared Monday night in East Stroudsburg, Pa., due to local flooding. Rising flood waters from rain-fed creeks turned the Pocono Mountain resort community of Canadensis into a near ghost town. The precise number of persons evacuated was not determined.

Effects of the heavy rains ranged over most of New Jersey and across a large part of New York. Flooded basements and streets were numerous throughout Monday.

Downpours which swept the upstate New York community of Liberty sent a 3-foot flood of water through the town's main street. Sullivan County authorities declared their Catskill Mountain county a disaster area.

Days of off-and-on rain along the Eastern Seaboard left some residents determined to enjoy life despite the bad weather. A crowd of 2,000 young people sat for five hours Monday night in New York's Central Park—during an intermittent downpour—to hear a concert by the Butterfield Blues band. Only a handful bothered with umbrellas.

The storms also ranged south into Maryland and Virginia. Nearly 3 inches of rain soaked Washington, D.C., through Monday.

Severe thunderstorms swept over Richmond late Monday and dumped almost 3 inches of rain in some parts of the city. Winds accompanying the storms toppled trees, smashed windows and ripped store awnings.

Farther to the south, the season's first tropical storm, Anna, was expected to intensify to hurricane force later today. The storm was more than three days away from any land area, however.

Clear and cooler weather rolled across the Midwest in the wake of the Northeast rains. Temperatures fell into the 50s and 60s over much of the Plains, Midwest and Great Lakes region.

Readings before dawn ranged from 50 at Kalispell, Mont., to 92 at Blythe and Needles Calif.

Airport Meet

Set Wednesday

Pickaway Countians genuinely interested in the proposed airport are invited to a meeting 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the L-K Restaurant.

The informative session, planned primarily for solicitors, will lay plans for furthering the $90,000 airport fund goal.

According to an informed source, a $100,000 grant has been set aside by the state for a Pickaway County airport providing the local obligation of securing a site is met.

Columbus Guard Use Costs State $60,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Adjutant Gen. Sylvester Del Corso estimated today that the cost of using National Guard troops in the recent East Side disturbance here would be between $60,000 and $65,000.

Del Corso said the city would not be asked to pay the bill because use of guard troops is included in services provided by the state.

Report Nixon Plans Visit To Vietnam On Wednesday

Meat Prices May Decline

But Not Much, Spokesman Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top Nixon administration farm economist predicts consumers soon may be paying less for beef, but some industry spokesmen say the day of $1 per pound round steak is gone forever.

Dr. Don Paarlberg, chief economist for the Department of Agriculture, said he sees hope for a cooling of retail prices as the result of cattle prices dropping some from their early June peak which was an 18-year record.

"The price has come down at the farm level—and sometimes these things don't work as promptly as they should—but my anticipation would be that we'd see, and have seen, some reaction on the retail market," Paarlberg said in an interview.

Contrary forecasts came from an industry spokesman, declining to be identified, who said retailers will not drop prices significantly because of what he sees as small or short-term declines in live cattle prices.

"Really, I don't think anybody in this country can ever again expect to see $1 round steak again, and certainly not less than about $1.39 for sirloin," the industry man said.

War Missiles Worry Reds, Not ABMs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey says Soviet leaders indicated to him much more concern about American development of offensive missiles than deployment of the Safeguard antimissile system.

The 1968 Democratic presidential nominee said in an interview after a 13-day visit to the Soviet Union the Russians "are less concerned about the ABM than about our offensive weapons, the MIRVs (multiple targetable re-entry vehicles)."

The former vice president said he favors continued research on the Safeguard ABM but opposes deployment.

Senate opponents have contended ABM deployment might cause the Russians to shun arms limitation talks.

"The ABM is only symbolic," he said. "If we step up our defenses, they feel they have to step up their offensive weapons. But it is our offensive missiles that worry them most."

He said Russian concern over differences with China and their own economic and social needs "requires them to think in terms of a better relationship with the United States—they are more open to discussions."

But he added: "Russia is more Russian than communist and it moves slowly. There are contesting forces at work. There is a power struggle and no one can predict what will happen."

On other matters, Humphrey said he is "seriously considering" returning to the political arena by seeking election to the Senate from Minnesota next year.

Humphrey said he discussed the American position on international cooperation in space, the Middle East, Vietnam and arms control with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

Under the plan, the federal government would move to license handgun owners if a state failed to act within four years after passage of the federal law. Licenses would be limited to police officers, security guards, small businesses in high crime areas and others with a special need for self-protection.

The federal government should earmark $500 million—about $20 a gun—to pay owners for the pistols turned in under the proposed law, the commission said.

Showdown On Income Tax Rates May Kill Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fast approaching congressional showdown over extension of the present income tax withholding rates may decide the fate of President Nixon's surtax.

House leaders tried Monday to put through a 15-day extension of the withholding rates to include the 10 per cent surtax levy, but were blocked by a parliamentary move.

Another attempt to get a vote on the resolution was planned for today or Wednesday. The surtax expired June 30, but Congress previously extended the pay check withholding rates through midnight Thursday.

A bill passed by the House and approved by the Senate Finance Committee would continue the 10 per cent surtax the final six months of this year and lower it to 5 per cent for the first six months of 1970.

Even if the withholding extension clears the House, it could run into trouble in the Senate where Republicans are seeking tim to negotiate with Democrats for action on the surtax itself.

But the response Monday by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was not encouraging to the administration.

He said he would be reluctant to bring up the 15-day withholding resolution unless the Republicans, including top administration officials, would agree to a compromise package worked out in the Senate Democratic Policy Committee.

This called for a five-month surcharge extension while the Senate works on a big tax reform bill now being drafted in the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Republicans rejected this last week and restated their argument Monday that a full year's extension is essential to fight inflation.

Mansfield replied that the surtax was getting more and more unpopular on his side of the aisle. And he said if the withholding rates are not extended by Thursday, it seemed likely the surtax would die and be beyond resurrection.

The Pickaway County Fair race program has a record number of entries with 89 head of harness horses on hand for the two days of racing.

Speed Secretary John Fissell says this is the most entries ever for a two-day racing program.

Fissell has promised a first for this year's program. Two women drivers will be competing Wednesday. They are Sherry Indestad of Pomeroy and Janet Irvine.

Women drivers have been competing for several years in harness racing, unlike thoroughbred racing, where the sex barrier was just broken this year, but it is a rare occurrence to have women drivers at county fairs.

Horses from as far away as Arizona and New York have entered this year. Other states represented in the harness races include Michigan, West Virginia and Indiana. Post time today and tomorrow is 4 p.m.

House Hits Foundations With Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee, pressing to complete a general tax reform bill for House action next week, has decided to rap foundations a bit harder.

The committee agreed Monday on a 7½ per cent levy on the presently tax-free investment income of the foundations—instead of 5 per cent as it originally proposed.

Other changes, some tightening and some easing restrictions earlier agreed on, were made as the committee approved final language for the foundation section of the big bill.

Meanwhile, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told a newsman the committee will do everything possible to report out a comprehensive reform measure by Friday.

Speaker John W. McCormack, when asked whether a bill completed by then could be scheduled for House action next week, replied: "Not could be—will be."

House leaders, observing the Senate tangle over a surtax extension bill and counting days until the Aug. 13 congressional recess, reportedly were convinced that delaying a vote on the reform measure would give opposition time to build up its forces.

Open Schedule Brings Solid Rumor Of Trip

BANGKOK (AP)—President Nixon will visit South Vietnam Wednesday and confer with President Nguyen Van Thieu, responsible sources reported today.

Details of Nixon's visit to the war zone were shrouded in security precautions, and White House spokesmen would give no confirmation. But neither would they deny the report.

It was expected that the President would be in Vietnam only a few hours.

Meanwhile, Nixon's top military and diplomatic officials in Saigon flew to Bangkok today to review the situation in Vietnam with the President.

Amid conferences on Southeast Asian security with the leaders of Thailand, Nixon scheduled an up-to-the-minute review of the war with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Nixon has said these talks would influence his thinking on further withdrawals of U.S. troops and his assessment of the significance of the battlefield lull in Vietnam, now in its sixth week.

Nixon's published schedule for Wednesday is blank until the evening, when Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn gives a dinner for the President and Mrs. Nixon.

White House spokesmen and American military sources remained silent on the possibility of a Vietnam trip during the day, but there were no denials of the rising speculation.

There was also a possibility that Nixon would drop in on one of the six big U.S. bases in Thailand to speak to the troops.

President Lyndon B. Johnson twice visited American bases in Thailand and Vietnam, stopping each time in Vietnam at the ultra-secure American base at Cam Ranh Bay.

It was believed that Nixon would prefer some other stopping place, perhaps even Saigon. This would impose extra security precautions, but with the war in a lull, it was believed that a visit to the South Vietnamese capital was possible.

Cigarettes Again Draw Federal Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Cigarette smoking continues to be confirmed as a serious health hazard to the people of this country, one which is the cause of much unnecessary disease and death."

That's how Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch introduced Monday the Public Health Service's third report on smoking.

The 135-page document cited new links with disease, summarized previous findings, and added "no substantial negative evidence has appeared which refutes these judgments."

New evidence was uncovered connecting cigarette smoking and heart attacks, cancer of the throat, emphysema, non-cancerous mouth disorders, pregnancy troubles.

Cigars and pipes continued to be generally absolved. Charcoal filters, in the words of a doctor who worked on that section of the report are ineffective and "not worth a damn."

The report was required under a 1965 law which required the health warning on cigarette packages while banning further government regulation until July 1 this year.

The House voted last month to continue this ban for another six years while requiring a slightly stiffer warning. The vote was considered a victory for the tobacco industry. The Senate has yet to act on the measure.

Germ-Free Mice Are Given Taste Of Lunar Dust

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Researchers here treating 354 germ-free mice with moon dust today to find out whether lunar organisms exist which could threaten life on earth.

Meanwhile, scientists studying rocks gathered on the moon by the Apollo 11 astronauts say the evidence is overwhelming that the lunar plains were created by lava flows.

They also said mysterious black dust clinging to the outside of the rocks contains a high percentage of lustrous glass-like spheres that may have rained down on the moon after a meteor plowed into the surface.

The experiment with the mice called for scientists to inject moon dust into the animals' blood, spray it in the air they breathe and put it in their food.

If the mice come down with an illness which cannot be explained or controlled between now and the time the astronauts' quarantine period is to end Aug. 11, the spacemen and 14 other people with them will have to remain untouchables for a longer time.

Similar studies will be made later using plants, insects, human tissue cultures and sea creatures.

Excitement among researchers examining moon dust and rocks was focused on preliminary findings of the material's physical properties, including a real scientific surprise—that up to one-third of the moon dust is composed of the glass-like spheres.

The tiny spheres—which range in color from dark brown to yellow—probably resulted from "condensation of a gas or vapor created by the impact of a meteor," said Dr. Clifford Frondell of Harvard University.

"The gas turned into droplets, condensed and rained down on the lunar surface," he suggested.

"The surprise," he added, "is not that the spheres are present, but their abundance."

Scientists have previously believed that cosmic dust plowing into the moon would smash most of any such spheres.

Perhaps the most important find was that most of the rocks returned by Apollo 11 appear to be hardened lava.

Preliminary studies have produced "overwhelming evidence that the mare (dry lunar seas) are built up by lava flows," said Dr. Eugene Shoemaker, geologist at the California Institute of Technology.

Federal Plan Would Strip Handgun Owners

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown warned Ohioans Monday to be aware of con men who have been using various free vacation schemes to cheat the public.

So-called winners of free vacations almost always end up paying out money for services they thought were free, Brown said.

The study report said most rightwing paramilitary groups have turned their attention from the fear of external Communist invasion to the fear of internal black maulers. This has led to the proliferation of neighborhood protective associations, it said.

"Now arms are stockpiled in the home as well as in the hills," the staff report said.

House Hits Foundations With Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, pressing to complete a general tax reform bill for House action next week, has decided to rap foundations a bit harder.

The committee agreed Monday on a 7½ per cent levy on the presently tax-free investment income of the foundations, instead of 5 per cent as it originally proposed.

Other changes, some tightening and some easing restrictions earlier agreed on, were made as the committee approved final language for the foundation section of the big bill.

Meanwhile, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told a newsman the committee will do everything possible to report out a comprehensive reform measure by Friday.

Speaker John W. McCormack, when asked whether a bill compiled by then could be scheduled for House action next week, replied: "Not could be—will be."

Rogers Says Soviets Show Some Warmth

TOKYO (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers told Japan today that U.S.-Soviet relations are moving toward a "somewhat less dangerous and less hostile state."

Reviewing the international situation in the first working session of the seventh U.S.-Japanese economic conference, Rogers said "the Soviet Union may see somewhat more clearly its national interests in a relatively stable world."

State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey said Rogers told the Japanese the United States is engaged in a careful and pragmatic testing of Soviet objectives.

He promised, however, that "there will be no attempt or willingness on the part of the United States to resolve any issue with the Soviet Union at the expense of our allies."

The secretary, on his first official visit to Japan, spoke of Soviet interest in a Middle East settlement, arms limitations, and "the surprising comment" recently made by Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev about an Asian collective security system.

Rogers characterized the latter as "a phantom suggestion" and conceded that the United States still has an idea what the Soviets have in mind.

Rogers had less encouraging comment on the Vietnam war.

"The North Vietnamese so far continue to insist that the South Vietnamese government be displaced by what they call a coalition without any expression of public views on this question. In effect they want to impose a government and hold an election to ratify it."

He said the United States did not know how soon North Vietnam will make a positive response to the peace overtures of President Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Hospital Strike Hits In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Picket lines appeared early today at Good Samaritan Hospital, where 500 service employees have voted to stay off the job to press their demands for union recognition.

The employees want the hospital to recognize the Dayton Public Service Employees Union as their bargaining agent.

Hospital spokesmen could not immediately determine the impact of the strike, taken Monday night.

Open Schedule Brings Solid Rumor Of Trip

BANGKOK (AP) — President Nixon will visit South Vietnam Wednesday and confer with President Nguyen Van Thieu, responsible sources reported today.

Details of Nixon's visit to the war zone were shrouded in security precautions, and White House spokesmen would give no confirmation. But neither would they deny the report.

It was expected that the President would be in Vietnam only a few hours.

Meanwhile, Nixon's top military and diplomatic officials in Saigon flew to Bangkok today to review the situation in Vietnam with the President.

Amid conferences on Southeast Asian security with the leaders of Thailand, Nixon scheduled an up-to-the-minute review of the war with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Nixon has said these talks would influence his thinking on further withdrawals of U.S. troops and his assessment of the significance of the battlefield lull in Vietnam, now in its sixth week.

Nixon's published schedule for Wednesday is blank until the evening, when Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn gives a dinner for the President and Mrs. Nixon.

White House spokesmen and American military sources remained silent on the possibility of a Vietnam trip during the day, but there were no denials of the rising speculation.

There was also a possibility that Nixon would drop in on one of the six big U.S. bases in Thailand to speak to the troops.

President Lyndon B. Johnson twice visited American bases in Thailand and Vietnam, stopping each time in Vietnam at the ultra-secure American base at Cam Ranh Bay.

It was believed that Nixon would prefer some other stopping place, perhaps even Saigon. This would impose extra security precautions, but with the war in a lull, it was believed that a visit to the South Vietnamese capital was possible.

Cigarettes Again Draw Federal Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Cigarette smoking continues to be confirmed as a serious health hazard to the people of this country, one which is the cause of much unnecessary disease and death."

That's how Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch introduced Monday the Public Health Service's third report on smoking.

The 135-page document cited new links with disease, summarized previous findings, and added "no substantial negative evidence has appeared which refutes these judgments."

New evidence was uncovered connecting cigarette smoking and heart attacks, cancer of the throat, emphysema, non-cancerous mouth disorders, pregnancy troubles.

Cigars and pipes continued to be generally absolved.

Charcoal filters, in the words of a doctor who worked on that section of the report are ineffective and "not worth a damn."

The report was required under a 1965 law which required the health warning on cigarette packages while banning further government regulation until July 1 this year.

The House voted last month to continue this ban for another six years while requiring a slightly stiffer warning. The vote was considered a victory for the tobacco industry. The Senate has yet to act on the measure.

Federal Plan Would Strip Handgun Owners

WASHINGTON (AP) — A domestic arms race has turned many homes into arsenals and created a situation so dangerous its elimination must be national policy, President Nixon has been told.

In a message that said 24 million pistols are now in private hands, the President's anti-violence commission called for the near-total removal of the concealable handgun from American life.

The President was urged to ask Congress for laws enabling states to license all owners of pistols, restricting their possession only to those who can prove they need them. Stiff penalties would be provided for illegal possession.

Under the plan, the federal government would move to license handgun owners if a state failed to act within four years after passage of the federal law. Licenses would be limited to police officers, security guards, small businesses in high crime areas and others with a special need for self-protection.

The federal government should earmark $500 million—a about $20 a gun—to pay owners for the pistols turned in under the proposed law, the commission said.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, chairman of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, urged at a news conference the quick start of a federal crash program to develop an efficient nonlethal weapon to replace the pistol.

In its statement, the commission supported the essential findings of a staff report which said the quadrupling of handgun sales has edged the nation closer to mass violence.

"Civil disorders have stimulated gun buying and the growth of black and white extremist groups, leaving this country with a dangerous legacy: the highly explosive combination of fear and firearms," the staff report said.

The study report said most rightwing paramilitary groups have turned their attention from the fear of external Communist invasion to the fear of internal black maulers. This has led to the proliferation of neighborhood protective associations, it said.

"Now arms are stockpiled in the home as well as in the hills," the staff report said.

Four of the 13 commission members, two of them members of Congress, dissented from the majority view and said they believe states should be free to act—or not to act—as they choose in the gun-control field.

The National Rifle Association, which the commission singled out for a possible key role in a mass education program on the responsible use of firearms, disagreed with most of its conclusions and recommendations.

The commission said, however, "We can make substantial inroads on firearms violence without imposing major inconveniences on hunters and skeet and trap shooters and without impeding other legitimate activities of millions of law-abiding gun owners."

Eisenhower pressed hard for development of a nondeadly weapon. "You see," he said, "the importance of this is that an awful lot of people in this country are keeping handguns for self-defense."

"The gun is much more an instrument to murder than a protective device," he said. His statement was echoed by the commission which indicated the belief that a gun in the home is a protection against intruders is a myth.

"The evidence is convincing," the commission said, "that the home robber most often has the advantage of surprise, and the armed segment of our population is paying a heavy price in accidents and in the shooting of family members, friends and acquaintances for whatever deterrent effect their possession of self-defense firearms may be providing."

Elnora F. Disbennett, 19, Laurelville, was treated for shock at Berger Hospital following an accident that occurred 11:18 p.m. Monday on Route 56 four miles west of Route 159.

She lost control on a curve, struck a utility pole and slid broadside 180 feet. Deputy Sheriff Billy Dountz investigated.

The Pickaway County sheriff's department has investigated a total of 63 accidents this month.

Sales Tax Collections Up In 1969

Pickaway County sales and use taxes for the second biweekly reporting period of fiscal 1969-70 have increased over the same two weeks of last year according to a release by State Treasurer, John D. Herbert.

Sales tax collections have increased $4,531.19 over 1968. A total of $19,568.75 was collected in Pickaway County from July 6 through July 19 as compared to $15,037.56 collected at the same time last year. The collections show a 30.13 per cent increase.

An increase of $3,055.71 was collected for motor vehicle and house trailer taxes July 6 through July 19 as compared to 1968. A total of $17,763.67 was collected over the two weeks and $27,375.46 was collected this fiscal year compared to $24,429.94.

Mrs. Talman Fights Fags

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A pretty blonde mother of six children begins a fight today against what she calls her husband's killer—cigarettes.

She's Peggy Talman, 40, widow of William Talman who played the always defeated district attorney on the Perry Mason television show. Talman died of lung cancer this year.

"Since his death, the children and I have carried on his fight in any way we can," says Mrs. Talman.

Today she flies to Sacramento to urge passage of a pending bill outlawing cigarette advertising in California. She wants to visit each member of the Assembly Committee on Commerce and Public Utilities, now considering the bill.

"I'm really an amateur at this," says Mrs. Talman. "I hope that I won't do or say the wrong thing." If she succeeds, she'll go to Washington to urge similar national legislation—if she can get a baby sitter. The Talman children range in age from 3 to 21.

El Salvador Hit By OAS Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States has prepared to impose economic sanctions against El Salvador in retaliation for the continuing presence of Salvadoran troops in Honduran territory.

A resolution placed Monday before OAS foreign ministers charges El Salvador with aggression for refusing to withdraw troops it has stationed during the past two weeks over a four-state area of western Honduras.

A second resolution orders the suspension of exports or imports of oil, coffee, cotton and sugar unless El Salvador agrees to the immediate withdrawal of its troops.

Special Police Task Force Seeks Michigan Mass Killer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A special task force of 25 detectives from five police agencies today mounted an intensified search for the killer or killers of seven young women slain over the past two years. Formation of the task force was the latest move in a manhunt which in recent days has included:

—An unsuccessful attempt to trap the killer of the latest victim by placing a department sore dummy at the site where her body was found.

—Mounted posses scouring the woodlands around Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti in search of clues to the spot where the girl was killed.

—A computerized search for a mysterious young motorcycleist with whom the latest victim, Karen Sue Beineman, 18, an Eastern Michigan University freshman, was last seen.

Miss Beineman's nude and battered body was found Saturday night, more than three days after she disappeared.

She was the eighth young woman slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in the past two years and the seventh in a string of unsolved and possibly related killings.

A laborer has been charged in one of the eight killings and police have discounted his possible role in the other seven.

William F. Delhey, Washtenaw County prosecutor, in charge of coordinating the manhunt, said the task force consists of detectives from the police departments of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Eastern Michigan University, the Michigan State Police and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's department.

The detectives will also have 25 administrative workers assigned to help them.

Delhey said an attempt to trap Miss Beineman's killer Saturday by placing a department store mannequin where her body was found had been unsuccessful.

Police did not immediately announce the finding of the body and replaced it with the dummy in the hopes that the killer would return to the scene, he said.

Meat Prices

Retail beef prices made their biggest jump during June when there was a 4.5 per cent gain in the cost of meats, poultry and fish. The government statistics showed a gain of six-tenths of one per cent in the cost of living during the month.

Why the big boost in beef prices?

Economists cite inflation and the rising demand among beef-hungry consumers who ate an average of 110-pounds per person last year, compared with 85 pounds in 1960.

Paarlberg discounts what some observers believe is the heart of the beef-price situation—the failure of cattlemen to turn out as much beef as needed.

million rifles and shotguns in private hands.

Four of the 13 commission members, two of them members of Congress, dissented from the majority view and said they believe states should be free to act—or not to act—as they choose in the gun-control field.

The National Rifle Association, which the commission singled out for a possible key role in a mass education program on the responsible use of firearms, disagreed with most of its conclusions and recommendations.

The commission said, however, "We can make substantial inroads on firearms violence without imposing major inconveniences on hunters and skeet and trap shooters and without impeding other legitimate activities of millions of long gun owners."

Eisenhower pressed hard for development of a nondeadly weapon. "You see," he said, "the importance of this is that an awful lot of people in this country are keeping handguns for self-defense."

"The gun is much more an incitement to murder than a protective device," he said.

His statement was echoed by the commission which indicated the belief that a gun in the home is a protection against intruders is a myth.

"The evidence is convincing," the commission said, "that the home robber most often has the advantage of surprise, and the armed segment of our population is paying a heavy price in accidents and in the shooting of family members, friends and acquaintances for whatever deterrent effect their possession of self-defense firearms may be providing."

Mrs. Talman Fights Fags

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A pretty blonde mother of six children begins a fight today against what she calls her husband's killer—cigarettes.

She's Peggy Talman, 40, widow of William Talman who played the always defeated district attorney on the Perry Mason television show. Talman died of lung cancer this year.

"Since his death, the children and I have carried on his fight in any way we can," says Mrs. Talman.

Today she flies to Sacramento to urge passage of a pending bill outlawing cigarette advertising in California. She wants to visit each member of the Assembly Committee on Commerce and Public Utilities, now considering the bill.

"I'm really an amateur at this," says Mrs. Talman. "I hope that I won't do or say the wrong thing." If she succeeds, she'll go to Washington to urge similar national legislation—if she can get a baby sitter. The Talman children range in age from 3 to 21.

El Salvador Hit By OAS Action

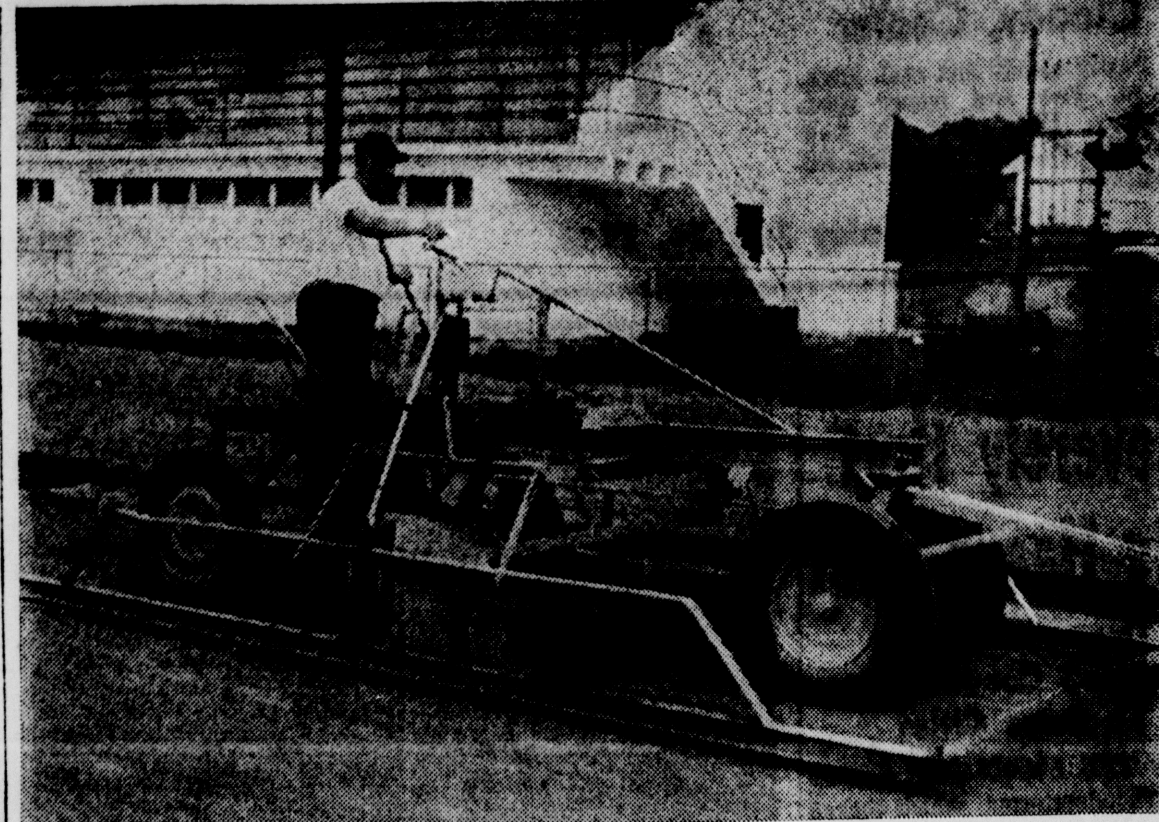

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States has prepared to impose economic sanctions against El Salvador in retaliation for the continuing presence of Salvadoran troops in Honduran territory.

A resolution placed Monday before OAS foreign ministers charges El Salvador with aggression for refusing to withdraw troops it has stationed during the past two weeks over a four-state area of western Honduras.

A second resolution orders the suspension of exports or imports of oil, coffee, cotton and sugar unless El Salvador agrees to the immediate withdrawal of its troops.

Special Police Task Force Seeks Michigan Mass Killer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A special task force of 25 detectives from five police agencies today mounted an intensified search for the killer or killers of seven young women slain over the past two years. Formation of the task force was the latest move in a manhunt which in recent days has included:

—An unsuccessful attempt to trap the killer of the latest victim by placing a department store dummy at the site where her body was found.

—Mounted posses scouring the woodlands around Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti in search of clues to the spot where the girl was killed.

—A computerized search for a mysterious young motorcyclist with whom the latest victim, Karen Sue Beineman, 18, an Eastern Michigan University freshman, was last seen.

She was the eighth young woman slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in the past two years and the seventh in a string of unsolved and possibly related killings.

A laborer has been charged in one of the eight killings and police have discounted his possible role in the other seven.

William F. Delhey, Washtenaw County prosecutor, in charge of coordinating the manhunt, said the task force consists of detectives from the police departments of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Eastern Michigan University, the Michigan State Police and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's department.

The detectives will also have 25 administrative workers assigned to help them.

Delhey said an attempt to trap Miss Beineman's killer Saturday by placing a department store mannequin where her body was found had been unsuccessful.

Nixon To Find Political Mess On India Visit

By JAMES MARKHAM
Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — President Nixon will arrive in New Delhi Thursday at a time of political confusion in India.

Since the end of April, just before President Zakir Husain died, India has had three heads of state. V.V. Giri, former vice president, resigned last Sunday as acting president, after being rejected by the ruling Congress party as a candidate for the presidency. This elevated for the first time a chief justice of the Supreme Court to the highest office of the land.

Mohammed Hidayatullah, 63, a jurist known for his liberal interpretations of the constitution is now acting president.

Nixon's itinerary mentions Hidayatullah only by title not by name, perhaps a precaution in case he resigns before the American president arrives.

Nixon has stressed the importance of face-to-face meetings with leaders of the countries on his tour but what substantive discussions he might have with Hidayatullah, a politically unknown and slightly obscure figure, are unclear.

Nixon will confer for two hours with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi in the magnificent dwarka sitting room of the Presidential Palace where the American chief executive will stay.

Mrs. Gandhi recently came close to losing her job during a leadership tussle in her ruling Congress party. However, the itinerary confidently lists her by name as well as title.

An imperative gesture for every visiting dignitary to the land that gave birth to Mohandas K. Gandhi, the independence leader who invented the doctrine of political nonviolence, is a visit to his cremation site, known as Rajghat.

From India, Nixon wings his way to Pakistan, like India the scene recently of political turmoil but of a more bloody variety. Bloody antigovernment riots forced President Mohammed Ayub Khan to step down in April.

In Lahore, Nixon will reside in, and not budge from, the beautiful white Government House which would not look out of place in the old American South.

Until last March, Government House was the residence of West Pakistan Gov. Mohammed Musa, one of Ayub Khan's strongest and most criticized backers. Musa's house was besieged in those days by students calling for the ouster of Ayub Khan.

Nixon is no stranger to demonstrations in Lahore, having himself been the target of one in April 1967 when he visited Pakistan as a private citizen. But he should find things quieter this time as he talks in seclusion with Ayub Khan's successor, Gen. Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan.

Nixon's visit to India is his third. His first trip was in 1953 when he was the first U.S. vice president to journey to India. Nixon visited New Delhi again in April 1967 as a private citizen.

Higher Air Fares Ahead

Prospects of another increase in air fares, the second this year, point up the persistent inflationary trend. Rising costs and low return on investment makes another increase necessary despite booming business, industry leaders say.

It increases such as these, rather than runaway price in specialized fields, such as medicine and construction, that highlight the inflationary trend.

Air fares are government controlled and presumably increases are not granted unless there is no alternative.

Get POWs Released

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

To talk with the wife of a downed U.S. flier who has been a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for almost four years is a heart-wrenching experience. The depth of the mute appeal for help cannot in the nature of things be translated into effective words. Mrs. Sybil Stockdale, whose husband, Navy Captain James Bond Stockdale, was shot down in 1965, knows all the frustrating limitations. She is the national coordinator of an organization called the National League of Families of American Prisoners in Southeast Asia, with headquarters in Coronado, Calif. She doesn't want to trade on public sympathy; as she says, she is proud of being the wife of a pilot who was doing his duty when misfortune struck. She doesn't want to say anything that could be used to make anti-American propaganda in Hanoi. But there is always the question: Is our State Department doing all it could be doing to have the North Vietnamese treat prisoners in accordance with the humane Geneva Convention of 1957?

Christmas mail and Christmas packages apparently do not go through to prisoners in Hanoi, even though the Geneva Convention stipulates that they are entitled to receive them. The North Vietnamese claim that the 1957 Geneva rules do not cover their situation, inasmuch as the Americans have not declared war. But the convention explicitly says that the accords, signed by North Vietnam on June 28, 1957, "shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more of the High Contracting Parties, even if the state of war is not recognized by one of them." This puts the ball in Ho Chi Minh's court. Unfortunately, Ho Chi Minh doesn't consider he is under any obligation to follow any particular rules of play.

What could be done to make Ho Chi Minh listen? Mrs. Stockdale's organization gets a somewhat less enigmatic response, and considerably more overtly expressed sympathy, from Secretary of Defense Melvyn Laird than from his predecessors. She herself has received warm and courteous treatment from both Averell Harriman, Lyndon Johnson's peace negotiator and the present Peace Ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge. When Xuan Thuy, chief of the Hanoi delegation to the Paris Peace Talks, refused to release a list of U.S. prisoners of war held by Hanoi (there may be as many as a thousand of them), Laird said he was "deeply shocked and disappointed by this cruel response of Hanoi's representative to such a basic request for humanitarian action."

This sort of thing shows that Laird's heart is in the right place but the quality of his cardiac response does not get through to North Vietnam. The whole thing necessarily degenerates into a "you're another" game of mutual recrimination. The North Vietnamese ask, in effect, "Why did you bomb us if you believe in being humane?" Our answer is, "Why did you try to subvert the government of South Vietnam if you didn't want war?" So the irresistible rhetorical force meets the immovable rhetorical object.

It so happens that Mrs. Stockdale's National League of Families of American Prisoners in Southeast Asia is repeating an old experience. In 1950, Captain Eugene R. Guild, of Glenwood Springs, Colo., a retired U.S. Army officer who had lost a son in Korea, formed a no-dues organization called the Fighting Homefolks of Fighting Men. Captain Guild says that of 389 men known to be held as prisoners in Korea, most were alive at last reports. He has often tried to obtain the names and addresses of their families from the Pentagon, only to be told that such information would invade the "privacy" of American citizens. Captain Guild, having waited longer, is not inclined to be so politic as Mrs. Stockdale. He wants to see some "muscle" applied to the North Vietnamese. Addressing himself to President Nixon on behalf of his own organization, he "requests that you demand in Paris that for each percentage of U.S. troops withdrawn from Vietnam, the Communists liberate a corresponding percentage of the U.S. POWs they hold. This will forestall the holding of our POWs in Vietnam for black mail, as the Communists held our POWs in Korea."

Would this jeopardize Nixon's withdrawal plans? Maybe. But if we are to withdraw under duress of any kind, what will be the upshot? A bigger war tomorrow, with more Captain Guilds and more Mrs. Stockdales forced to form more organizations of the kind and kin of POWs? The game, as we play it, will have no end if "iron" is never exhibited on behalf of the Geneva rules.

Rogers To Face An Irate Chiang On Formosan Visit

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers will face a sticky problem when he arrives here Friday for a 46-hour visit: trying to explain the recent easing of U.S. restrictions on travel and trade with Communist China while reaffirming U.S. support for President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime.

Chiang's government has expressed serious concern about last week's announcement that Americans may purchase up to $100 worth of Chinese Communist goods and that U.S. citizens in six categories may have their passports validated automatically for travel to Communist China.

The Nationalists see the move as further erosion in their status in the community of nations. They have warned Washington that "the decision to accord such unilateral favors toward Communist China will produce ill results which are bound to affect free countries."

Rogers also is expected to talk with Nationalist officials about the problem of returning Okinawa to Japan. The Nationalists are concerned about Okinawa, which the United States captured from Japan in World War II, because they fear dismantling of the huge U.S. military base there might result in a weakening of allied defenses against Communist China.

U.S. and Japanese officials are now discussing the eventual reversion of Okinawa and the rest of the Ryukyu Islands to Japanese rule. A date for reversion is expected to be set when the U.S.-Japanese security treaty comes up for renewal next year.

Nationalist China and South Korea feel that the future of the Ryukyus should not be settled in bilateral negotiations between the United States and Japan, but by all allied nations that have an interest in Asian defense.

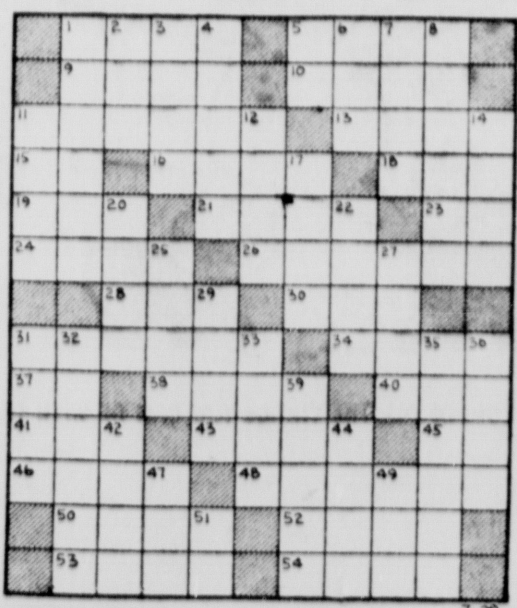

Another topic scheduled for discussion with Rogers is the Chinese-American resources exchange accord, which was signed in 1967 and expires at the end of this year. Under the accord, the United States agreed to provide Formosa $37.5 million worth of surplus farm products to help finance Formosan economic projects in developing nations.

Try and Stop Me

THE OWNER of one of New York's oldest judo and karate schools is closing up shop next month. His excuse: "Our neighborhood is getting so full of muggers my instructors are afraid to come to work any more."

"The Peter Principles," by Lawrence Peter and Raymond Hull, is an absorbing book that sets out to explain "why things always go wrong." For every job, claim the authors, "there's a man somewhere who can't do it—and sooner or later, they'll find each other."

If a man is working at a job he does well, he'll be promoted. If he succeeds in the new job, he'll be promoted again. Sure as death and taxes, he eventually will be promoted to a position he can't fill at all. In other words, the cream keeps rising until it sours. That's the Peter Principle in a nutshell. In time, fret the authors, every responsible post in the country will be held by an employee who is manifestly incompetent to carry out its duties.

How to avoid this fate yourself? Dress sloppily, suggest Messrs. Peter and Hull. Don't go to the moon. Insult your boss' wife. Don't laugh at his jokes. Let important mail pile up on your desk while you dawdle over personal phone calls. In short, immerse yourself in activities that have nothing whatsoever to do with what you're being paid to accomplish. It's the safest way to avoid promotion—and in these days of insufficient executive talent—even that isn't guaranteed!

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Insomnia is a chronic complaint that seems to have limitless variations when described by patients. Some say they cannot fall asleep and "have not had more than an hour's sleep each night in twenty years." Others claim that they pace the floor until they are exhausted and then sleep restlessly for a few minutes at a time. I seem to have heard every explanation for insomnia, which is a product of our civilization's anxiety and turbulence.

I do not mean that insomnia has no physical causes. A late, heavy meal, over indulgence in tobacco and alcohol, extreme fatigue, intense emotional activity and drugs are only a few of the reasons for inability to sleep.

Many, unable to separate themselves from the problems that bombard them throughout the day, carry them over to their resting hours. Others are distressed by anticipation of tomorrow's problems and thus cheat themselves of a good night's sleep.

Sleep patterns vary in the same individual from time to time. We are accustomed to believe that sleep must always conform to a pattern, but our remarkable time clock mechanism sometimes changes and insomnia results.

I have often wondered why patients take it as a personal affront if they cannot fall asleep exactly when they usually do. The more annoyed they become, the less likely is the possibility of restful sleep.

It is another misconception that one always needs the same number of hours of sleep.

The body "sleep thermostat" somehow fulfills its need if it is not pushed too hard by added tension. It is this concern that tempts so many to seek drugs to induce sleep rapidly.

There are many specific reasons why the barbiturates and other drugs are prescribed by physicians to break the cycle of sleeplessness. These drugs are safe when used in moderation and are stopped when the need no longer exists. Unfortunately, there is a tendency to overuse these drugs with the result that a great dependence is unnecessarily created.

Sleeping pills can be purchased without prescription from unreliable sources by those whose reliance on them is great. The result is a slow, progressive dependence and even addiction that happens far too frequently. Before long, there is need for greater and greater amounts and an unbroken cycle of insomnia and "sleeping pills" results.

There is a great art in divorcing oneself from the emotional problems of the day, at home and in business. Learning to use relaxation and leisure often means breaking the tensions acquired in a lifetime. When this is not possible psychological guidance may be able to bring out the real basis for fears and anxieties, the usual culprits in insomnia.

Speech defects should be corrected as early as possible.

With the splashdown of Apollo 11 and the safe return of Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins, Americans breathed a prayer of relief. At the same time, our "chest" is bursting with pride at our accomplishment. We do not really know how far we might have gone in charting the universe.

The ancient Phoenicians charted the Mediterranean 4,000 years ago. Their maps served to open up the Mediterranean and the Middle East and were used for centuries by commercial travelers as well as those who wanted to explore the beyond. The Greeks continued the geological exploration and, you might say, developed explorations of the mind. Columbus, when he discovered America, was looking for another route to the East Indies.

We do not yet know what Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins discovered, but in 1969 America was assured a place in the history of man.

There will be those who say it is a very exciting event but what good does it do America today and in the immediate future? There is no question but that the prestige of America has been enhanced throughout the world.

On Wednesday, I had the privilege of attending a briefing by Frank Shakespeare, director of the United States Information Agency. Reports from their people coming in from all parts of the world indicate that more than 650 million people saw Armstrong's first step on the moon via television. In Japan, 80 million television sets were on. A huge crowd had gathered in Tokyo and cheered lustily when this historic event occurred. More than 500,000 people went through the American Embassy in Budapest, Hungary, to wait in line to obtain a pamphlet entitled "Man on the Moon." A giant TV screen was set up in Seoul, Korea, where 150,000 persons crowded the square. Fifteen transmitters sent television waves from Formosa into Communist China. In Warsaw, the American Embassy was crowded to overflowing with Polish people trying to get a glimpse of several television sets. In Chile, church bells tolled. Only in Russia was the event completely blacked out.

Aside from the spectacular aspects of exploring the universe and unquestionably enhancing our prestige in the world, the knowledge and technology acquired through research by NASA has made available many great benefits to the average American. More than 22,000 by-products have been created. Every housewife knows about the teflon skillet. Higher Air Fares Ahead

Prospects of another increase in air fares, the second this year, point up the persistent inflationary trend. Rising costs and low return on investment makes another increase necessary despite booming business, industry leaders say.

It is increases such as these, rather than runaway price in specialized fields, such as medicine and construction, that highlight the inflationary trend.

Air fares are government controlled and presumably increases are not granted unless there is no alternative.

Get POWs Released

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

To talk with the wife of a downed U.S. flier who has been a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for almost four years is a heart-wrenching experience. The depth of the mute appeal for help cannot in the nature of things be translated into effective words. Mrs. Sybil Stockdale, whose husband, Navy Captain James Bond Stockdale, was shot down in 1965, knows all the frustrating limitations. She is national coordinator of an organization called the National League of Families of American Prisoners in Southeast Asia, with headquarters in Coronado, Calif. She doesn't want to trade on public sympathy; as she says, she is proud of being the wife of a pilot who was doing his duty when misfortune struck. She doesn't want to say anything that could be used to make anti-American propaganda in Hanoi. But there is always the question: Is our State Department doing all it could be doing to have the North Vietnamese treat prisoners in accordance with the humane Geneva Convention of 1957?

Christmas mail and Christmas packages apparently do not go through to prisoners in Hanoi, even though the Geneva Convention stipulates that they are entitled to receive them. The North Vietnamese claim that the 1957 Geneva rules do not cover their situation, inasmuch as the Americans have not declared war. But the convention explicitly says that the accords, signed by North Vietnam on June 28, 1957, "shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more of the High Contracting Parties, even if the state of war is not recognized by one of them." This puts the ball in Ho Chi Minh's court. Unfortunately, Ho Chi Minh doesn't consider he is under any obligation to follow any particular rules of play.

What could be done to make Ho Chi Minh listen? Mrs. Stockdale's organization gets a somewhat less enigmatic response, and considerably more overtly expressed sympathy, from Secretary of Defense Melvyn Laird than from his predecessors. She herself has received warm and courteous treatment from both Averell Harriman, Lyndon Johnson's peace negotiator and the present Peace Ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge. 14 Tremors Are Recorded On The Moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — An experimental seismometer package placed on the lunar surface by the Apollo 11 astronauts has recorded 14 moon tremors.

NASA said the experimental package, planted on the moon July 20 by astronaut Edwin A. Aldrin, "continues to function well in all respects."

The seismic events were recorded beginning July 25, and scientists and geologists said the tremors are of the nature of landslides in craters near the Apollo 11 landing site.

"The character of the seismic signals received from the moon is similar to that observed when landslides occur on earth," it was reported.

The tremors coincided with the period of highest lunar surface temperatures as the sun approaches lunar noon.

If the landslide hypothesis is correct, the seismologists feel that they may be observing the initial stages of the process by which fresh new craters are transformed to old.

Soon truly accurate long-range weather forecasting by the use of satellites will become a reality. Losses caused by weather in the United States alone are estimated at 1,200 lives and $11 billion in property damage a year. These tragic figures will be reduced significantly.

These are a few of the specifics. In general, space research has indirectly developed for industry new or improved plastics, lubricants, metal alloys, welding techniques, paints and protective castings, switches, pumps, electronic circuits, mapping techniques, insulation, chemical energy sources, television equipment, photography techniques, pollution control, antiseptic procedures, cloth, highway safety, incubators for premature babies, medical techniques and well the list goes on and on.

American business concerns have used this information to create new industries, new jobs and wonderful new products for our people. These benefits that touch our daily lives are manifold and exist now.

Last week the House passed a bill to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to formulate and carry out a program to improve the nutritional status of needy children in group situations away from home.

By a voice vote, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to prohibit the importation of endangered species of fish or wildlife into the United States, except for zoological, educational, scientific and preservation purposes.

The National Commission of Product Safety has been extended until June 30, 1970. Its purpose is to review industry self regulations and all laws relating to the consumer's protection.

One of my pleasant assignments last week was receiving 29 Girl Scouts and their leaders from Troop 248 in Upper Arlington. Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Victor Turf, Mrs. Paul Braun, Mrs. R. C. LeMaster and Mrs. Roland Fuller. They had written to me back in November, so we were able to make some arrangements which they all agreed proved interesting and informative. Our office stands ready to make tour arrangements for groups coming to Washington. Just give us a little notice.

Dear Abby: Mom's Fear Can Hurt Child

DEAR ABBY: My best friend and her husband have two adopted children, a boy and a girl. The little girl is nearly five, and she is a very affectionate child who likes to hug, kiss, and climb all over the men who visit in the home.

The mother expressed great concern over this, and confided, "I know what her REAL mother was like, and that's what worries me." (The implication being that because most adopted children are products of unwed mothers, they will turn out "bad" like their mothers.) I am sure that many people feel that this is true, but I, for one, do not believe it.

I feel so strongly about this, Abby because I happen to be adopted, and a few of my friends are aware of it. I would like to see this letter printed with your comments. Thank you.

ADOPTED AND HURT

DEAR ABBY: The causes of illegitimacy are not hereditary. Your friend is unbelievably ignorant, and I hope someone educates her before she communicates her foolish fears to her adopted children.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl. I am pretty and smart, have a good figure and a nice complexion, and people tell me

I have a good personality. My friend is fat, has a pimply complexion and a terrible personality but she gets all the boys. Can you help me?

NOT POPULAR

DEAR ABBY: No, but I'll bet your fat friend with the pimply complexion and "terrible" personality can. Watch her and listen to her and find out why the boys find her so attractive. She may not be so great, but if she makes other people think THEY'RE great, she'll win a popularity contest.

DEAR ABBY: This isn't just an ordinary mother-in-law gripe. I really do love my mother-in-law, but she does something that grieves me no end.

Whenever I have something new on, she wants to know where I bought it, how much it costs, and would I mind terribly if she got one like it since "we don't go around in the same crowd?" It's true, we don't go around in the same crowd, but we both go to a lot of the same places, and we know a lot of the same people.

Abby, she's a darling woman, and we're the same size, and can wear the same styles, but what can I do? Of course I tell her I don't mind, but I don't enjoy going somewhere dressed like one of the Bobbsey

Petunia Plucker Puzzles Police

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police are probing the case of the petunia plucker in Philadelphia's prettiest place.

For the past four years, the 2200 block of North Sydenham Street has taken first place in the Pretty Street contest. According to block chairman, Naomi Lewis, judges have been swayed by decorative window boxes displaying petunia arrangements in front of the 60 homes on the block.

This year, someone took the petunias. She told police she suspects the culprit may be a poor loser because even the roots are missing.

Rural City Of 4,500 Has Racial Outbreak

JAMESBURG, N. J. (AP) — This rural community of 4,500 is having racial problems similar to big cities.

The disorders began July 14, a muggy day, just two years after one of the worst riots in the nation's history swept Newark, N.J. about 35 miles to the north.

Like the Newark disorders, the trouble in this sleepy, mile-square community was triggered by a relatively minor incident. In Newark, the arrest of Negro cabbie John W. Smith touched off five days of rioting that claimed 26 lives and ran property damage into the millions. In Jamesburg, an argument over a 26-cent ice cream cone touched off the disorders.

Police say the disorders have now subsided.

Charles DiBrizzi, an ex-convict who runs an ice cream stand, says he's been made a "patsy" in a racial situation that was bound to arise.

The trouble began when a fist-fight broke out at DiBrizzi's stand between his son and a Negro youth over who would pay for the ice cream cone of a 13-year-old girl. The girl, Sonia Denise Gordon, later was hospitalized six days with an injury allegedly suffered in the incident and DiBrizzi was charged with atrocious assault and battery.

As DiBrizzi, a 40-year-old Marine veteran decorated in Korea, tells it, he broke up the fight but did not touch the girl.

The incident triggered two fights of disorders which made the community acutely aware of the fact it has a racial problem.

Some of the 9 per cent Negro population lives in substandard housing. Much of the Negro population is composed of second and third generation migrant workers from the South.

Many of these Negroes are angry youths who feel the town has treated them harshly and that they can't win for losing.

During the disorders, 15 persons, some of them white youths, were arrested. Several stores and other businesses, including the mayor's machine shop, were fire-bombed but no looting was reported. Police Chief Peter Giacomozzi said there were no serious injuries during the disorders.

Mayor Walter Mychalchuk, who took office in November, said the trouble was a result of a "generation gap" between white and Negro parents and their children. He said most of those involved were teen-agers.

"When the trouble started, the Negro town fathers tried to send their kids home," he said. "The white parents did the same thing. They were shocked to see how vicious their children could be."

Mychalchuk, who imposed an overnight curfew on the borough shortly after trouble began, said the disorders were planned.

"Plans for causing a disturbance were made a long time ago," he said. "They were just waiting for an incident to start it."

"There was some direction behind the whole thing. The police have discovered Molotov cocktails, chains, homemade knives and other weapons in various parts of town. They had them ready, and someone must have showed them how to use them."

DiBrizzi, who spent three years in prison in connection with the theft of a truckload of golf balls, said that during an angry confrontation at his ice cream stand, a militant Negro leader told him "Wait until Newark hears about this." A few hours later the trouble began.

DiBrizzi says that since the trouble started, Negroes have been boycotting his business. He also said the lives of himself and his family—a wife and four children—have been threatened.

"Jamesburg has never had a racial problem," DiBrizzi said. "The trouble at my stand was started by young hooligans. I was made a patsy, but I don't know the meaning of fear."

Charles Gray, head of the local antipoverty agency, says he feels DiBrizzi has been made a scapegoat. But he contends DiBrizzi and the rest of Jamesburg's white community has been guilty of an "omission of responsibility," resulting in the disorders.

Mrs. Bernard Savey Carries Theme Of Fair Flower Show In Unique Way

By RUTH MONTELIUS
Garden Editor

"Special Days The American Way" was the theme for Monday's Flower Show at the Fair.

According to Mrs. Allen Grossman, Orient, Ohio, the judge, Mrs. Bernard Savey carried out this theme very well in a different and unique way. She had quite interesting use of plant material.

Mrs. Grossman went on to comment that it was a very nice show and very good work was on display. She said for such a nice show and fair there should be greater participation and many more entries.

Mrs. Grossman likes to judge locally. She is well known for her work with 4-H. She is the adviser for a Junior Garden Club the Darbyettes.

Mrs. Charles A. Fleming can be complimented, along with her committee for a lovely show. It is staged very handsomely and the entries are shown off to great advantage. Many ladies helped to make this flower show a success.

Mrs. John Eshelman and Mrs. James G. Scott and Mrs. John Beck gave much help in staging and with entries. The clerks for Monday were Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. W. E. Gibson. Of course all the ladies on the committee — Mrs. Bernard Savey, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. W. E. Gibson, Mrs. John Beck, Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. Harry Kern, Mrs. Turney Pontious — did their share.

The judging was done verbally by Mrs. Grossman. This is a very good way for the public and the layman to learn pointers for showing. Tips on grooming the specimen blooms were given.

Mrs. Bernard Savey has a most interesting exhibit of Button gardens, spoon gardens, and miniatures. This is worth viewing. These tiny arrangements contain pieces of twigs, flowers, shells, small animals, figures, all done very artistically and very correct as to composition. Some have a small oriental motif, others different scenes and landscapes. This would be a most exciting hobby for the bedridden.

The hanging basket class was an outstanding class, as was the dried and preserved plant material class.

The winner in all classes were as follows:

Mrs. Bernard Savey Carries Theme Of Fair Flower Show In Unique Way

By RUTH MONTELIUS
Garden Editor

"Special Days The American Way" was the theme for Monday's Flower Show at the Fair.

According to Mrs. Allen Grossman, Orient, Ohio, the judge, Mrs. Bernard Savey carried out this theme very well in a different and unique way. She had quite interesting use of plant material.

Mrs. Grossman went on to comment that it was a very nice show and very good work was on display. She said for such a nice show and fair there should be greater participation and many more entries.

Mrs. Grossman likes to judge locally. She is well known for her work with 4-H. She is the adviser for a Junior Garden Club the Darbyettes.

Mrs. Charles A. Fleming can be complimented, along with her committee for a lovely show. It is staged very handsomely and the entries are shown off to great advantage. Many ladies helped to make this flower show a success.

Mrs. John Eshelman and Mrs. James G. Scott and Mrs. John Beck gave much help in staging and with entries. The clerks for Monday were Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. W. E. Gibson. Of course all the ladies on the committee — Mrs. Bernard Savey, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. W. E. Gibson, Mrs. John Beck, Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. Harry Kern, Mrs. Turney Pontius — did their share.

The judging was done verbally by Mrs. Grossman. This is a very good way for the public and the layman to learn pointers for showing. Tips on grooming the specimen blooms were given.

Mrs. Bernard Savey has a most interesting exhibit of Button gardens, spoon gardens, and miniatures. This is worth viewing. These tiny arrangements contain pieces of twigs, flowers, shells, small animals, figures, all done very artistically and very correct as to composition. Some have a small oriental motif, others different scenes and landscapes. This would be a most exciting hobby for the bedridden.

The hanging basket class was an outstanding class, as was the dried and preserved plant material class.

The winner in all classes were as follows:

New York visits Oakland. Boston is at California, Washington at Seattle and Baltimore at Kansas City in AL night games while Detroit plays a two-night twin bill at Minnesota and Chicago visits Cleveland for another pair under lights.

Pinson matched the NL's season-high hitting streaks, shared by Pittsburgh's Matty Alou and Willie Stargell, with his fourth inning single, then doubled to score Julian Javier in the sixth and give St. Louis a 2-0 lead.

Cardinals' rookie Chuck Taylor blanked the Padres until the eighth, when they scored on an error by Javier, an infield hit by Ed Spiezio and a double by Roberto Pena.

An intentional walk filled the bases with one out, but Pinson gloved Nate Colbert's foul fly down the right field line and fired to the plate to nail pinch runner John Sipin, completing a rally-killing double play.

Javier cracked a leadoff homer off loser Dick Kelley in the first inning and singled ahead of Pinson's RBI double in the sixth, helping Taylor gain his third victory without a loss.

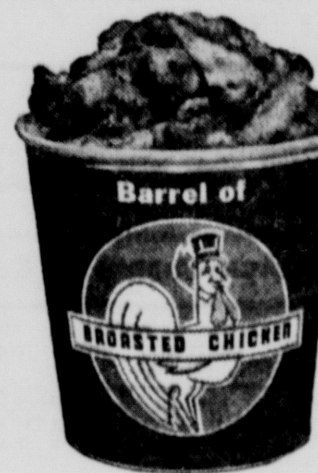

Juan Marichal walked pinch hitter Willie Smith with two out in the 10th, and Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Williams followed with singles, giving the Cubs their first Wrigley Field victory over the Giants' ace in five years.

The Giants overcame a 2-0 deficit on Willie McCovey's two-run homer off Bill Hands in the eighth and took a 3-2 lead in the top of the 10th on Willie Mays' run-scoring single.

Ron Santo drilled a two-run homer for the Cubs before McCovey's 31st circuit sent the game into overtime.

The victory increased the Cubs' East Division lead over second place New York to five games.

CAP Edges Mac's; PPG Tops Blocks

Two games were played in the Mosquito League last night which might be previews to the Red and Black division championship.

Circle Auto Parts, the leading team in the Black division, edged Mac's Goodyear, the previously undefeated front-runners in the Red division, 5-4. PPG, the second place team, one game behind Mac's, dumped Block's, the second place team in the Black division, 11-1.

In the CAP-Mac's tilt, the two teams were scoreless after two innings. CAP took a two run lead on back to back doubles by Scott Willoughby and Mark Albright. Mac's tied the tilt in their half of the third stanza on a two run triple by Tom McGuire.

Neither team was able to score in the fourth inning, but both managed two runs in the fifth. With the game tied 4-4, CAP's first two men were fanned by Mac's. Willoughby banged another double, then Mac's walked three batters to score him and the winning run. Mac's was unable to score in the last inning with the bases loaded.

Brenna Linaier placed fourth in the girls 10 and under 50 meter freestyle, and Eric Pontious was sixth in the boys 10 and under 50 meter breaststroke. John Lawter was seventh in the boys 13 and 14 year old 10 meter breaststroke.

The championship race card will be climaxed with the 50-lap super-modified and 35-lap hobby stocks features.

The speedway is on Blain Highway, 12 miles south of Chillicothe and west of Route 23 at Alma.

After six weeks of squabbling, Namath finally bowed to the pressure and his deeply-imbedded desire to play football, agreed to sell his interest in the restaurant, shook hands with Rozelle and joined the Jets.

Pro football, its off season punctuated with squabbles over the players pension and Joe Namath's fuss with Commissioner
Pete Rozelle over his New York night spot, moves in this week to grab some of the sports spotlight from baseball in six curtain-raising exhibition games.

The highlight of the openers will be played Friday night in Chicago between the Namathquarterbacked New York Jets and the College All-Stars.

The other games, all Saturday night:
Baltimore at San Diego.
Minnesota vs. Miami at Tampa, Fla.
Chicago at Washington.
Buffalo at Houston.
Kansas City vs. Oakland at Birmingham, Ala.

Namath will appear against the All-Stars with only two weeks practice. He spent the first weeks of the Jets' workouts in retirement after he elected June 6 to quit football rather than bow to Rozelle's ultimatum that he sell his East Side restaurant or face suspension.

Rozelle charged that Namath's Bachelors III was being frequented by questionable characters.

Aaron Wins Canadian Open Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — Tommy Aaron has joined golf's establishment.

He's finally shed the stigma of the perennial also-ran by winning a tournament.

The tall, 32-year-old from Callaway Gardens, Ga., made it to the winner's circle Monday after a nine-year wait capturing the Canadian Open Championship by two strokes in an 18-hole playoff round with veteran Sam Snead—25 years his senior.

"I guess you won't talk about the fact I've never won one now," Aaron gently chided newsmen. "You'll probably quit writing about me because there's nothing unique about me now. I've become one of the guys. I've won one."

Aaron shot a two-under-par 70 over the Pinegrove Golf Club layout while Snead had to settle for a par 72.

His victory was a big one financially as well as psychologically. He won $25,000 to Snead's $14,300 and added $4,500 as his share of the gate.

Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., also picked up $4,500 additional money from gate receipts of $18,000 from the estimated 3,000-strong gallery. Fifty per cent of playoff gates are assigned to the golfers involved, with the Royal Canadian Golf Association and the host club equally splitting the other 50 per cent.

The pair had finished the regulation 72-hole round Sunday with identical 13-under-par 275 scores, with Aaron setting a course record with an eight-under 64 in the fourth round to catch Snead.

Reds Smash Tribe, 10-1

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians resume their uphill climb for respectability in the American League tonight with a two-night double-header here against the lowly Chicago White Sox.

The Indians played an exhibition game Monday, but didn't enjoy it much as the Cincinnati Reds clubbed them 10-1 in a game to benefit Cleveland's sandlot baseball program.

Although the game drew 28,416 fans and another 12,000 seats were sold to raise $70,000, the Indians suffered through a 17-hit Reds' attack that included home runs by Pete Rose, Ted Savage, and Alex Johnson. The lone Indian run came on a home run by Vern Fuller.

The Indians are scheduled to pitch Luis Tiant (8-11) and Steve Hargan (2-8) against the White Sox' Tommy John (6-9) and Gary Peters (6-11).

The Indians have a chance to move ahead of the White Sox in season records if they can win both games. The Indians have won 40 and lost 61 for last place in the East Division, and Chicago is 40 and 60 for fifth place in the six team West Division.

Leo Durocher Says He Made Error In Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is not above making mistakes. Sometimes he admits them and sometimes he doesn't.

"It wasn't Hands' fault," said Durocher Monday after the Cubs threw away certain victory and then snatched it back from Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants 4-3 in 10 innings.

"It was stupidity on my part," admitted Durocher when Bill Hands' sailing along with a 2-0 shutout, threw a home run pitch to Willie McCovey in the eighth to tie the game.

The Giants took the lead in the top of the 10th on Willie Mays' run-scoring single, but the Cubs pulled it out in the bottom of the 10th after two were out on a walk and singles by Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams.

Durocher confessed to stupidity in not ordering Hands to walk McCovey in the eighth with a man on second and first base open.

"I must be second guessing myself," he said. "I walked him in the first inning with a man on second and first base open. In fact, I long ago decided to handle him like I used to handle Stan Musial. Anytime Musial could tie me or beat me, I ordered him walked. That's all."

"But my boys took me off the hook," added Durocher, "they never quit or give up."

While the Cubs took Leo off the hook on the field, it remained to be seen what would happen this morning when he meets with club owner P. K. Wrigley about his disappearing act off the field.

Durocher left in the third inning of last Saturday's game, complaining of stomach pains. He also missed Sunday's game.

Later it was learned he appeared at Camp Ojibwa, Eagle River, Wis., Saturday night at a parents' reception. Mrs. Durocher's young son is attending the camp. Durocher and Lynne Walker Goldblatt were married last month.

Plan To Increase

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The U.S. Auto Club rules committee voted Monday night to increase the size restriction on "stock block" engines in Indianapolis-type cars from 320 cubic inches to 335 cubic inches in 1970.

Stokes Wants Police Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big cities aren't getting their share of federal aid for police protection, Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes said Monday.

Stokes told the House Crime Committee that present legislation is putting too much money into small communities when the bulk of the crime problem is in metropolitan areas.

Stokes also urged Congress to tighten up existing firearms legislation.

He said efforts in Cleveland to enact gun registration laws have "encouraged stiff opposition from some of those who had been crying most loudly for law and order in our community."

The term law and order, he said, has come to mean "the suppression of protest against injustices and wrongs, the unwillingness to redress grievances, the unwillingness to attack poverty and discrimination."

Branch this fall, majoring in elementary education.

First runnerup was Donnamarie Geise, 22, of Youngstown, a first year graduate student at Miami University where she is studying speech and drama.

Second runnerup was Dorann Block, 22, of Cleveland. She recently graduated from Cleveland State University, majoring in elementary education.

Third runnerup was Kathy Simmerlink, 21, of Youngstown, a senior at St. Elizabeth School of Nursing there.

The Ohio News Photographers Assn. (ONPA) sponsors the beauty pageant annually as the only "genuine" beauty queen contest in the state. Entrants are judged on beauty and photogenic qualities only, with no talent consideration.

Selection of Miss ONPA is done by vote by secret ballot of all members present.

The contest was one of many activities of the three-day convention here. Other events included a business meeting, a brief education seminar and a banquet.

This was the first time the ONPA chose Chillicothe, Ohio's first state capital, as its convention site.

22 Students Plead Guilty In OSU Tiff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-two students who were among 34 Negroes accused of taking over the Ohio State University administration building in April 1968 pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges Monday.

The common pleas court action came after the prosecution dropped a dozen felony charges brought against each student and dropped all charges against 10 of the original 34.

No action was taken on two students, one now in the military service and one who has not been in touch with the court recently.

The youths, allegedly members of the Black Student Union on campus, were accused of holding OSU Vice President Gordon Carson and staff members in the second floor of the building.

A grand jury in May 1968 indicted each of the 34 students on charges of unlawful detention, conspiracy to detain and blackmail, all felonies and a charge of menacing threat and trespassing on school property, the misdemeanor to which the 22 pleaded guilty Monday.

Among the students entering guilty pleas was John S. Evans, reported leader of the group. No sentencing date was set.
